STAFF WORKPLACE STANDARDS — DRESS CODE

Staff present a clean, professional, and approachable appearance appropriate to a residential care setting for children and youth.

Standard dress	Clean, professional-casual clothing in good repair; closed-toe, non-slip footwear at all times (safety requirement); clothing permits safe physical activity, cooking, and emergency response
ECC-issued blazer	ECC may issue a branded blazer for community outings, appointments, school meetings, and professional events; worn when representing ECC off-site; remains ECC property and is returned on separation
ECC-issued fanny pack	ECC may issue a staff fanny pack for shift use: medication-run items as authorized, gloves, personal alarm, program phone, and keys — keys are never left unattended (ECC-MED §9 key management applies); returned at end of shift/separation
Not permitted	Offensive, discriminatory, or drug/alcohol-themed graphics; revealing clothing; heavy scents (scent-reduced workplace); jewelry that creates a safety risk during physical support or activities
Identification	Staff identify themselves to visitors and professionals; ID/name visible at community appointments

ATTENDANCE AND LATE ARRIVAL RULES

Youth ratios must be maintained at all times (SHSS G.2) — the outgoing shift cannot leave until relieved, so punctuality is a safety requirement, not a courtesy.

Arrival	Staff arrive in time to receive handover, complete the shift-change medication and CDS counts (ECC-MED §11), and accept key transfer BEFORE the scheduled shift start
If you will be late	Phone (not text) the Shift Lead or PC the moment a delay is known — at latest 30 minutes before shift start; state your expected arrival time
Pay for late arrival	Wages are paid for time actually worked: late arrival is unpaid for the actual time missed, recorded on the timesheet per payroll rounding. In accordance with the BC Employment Standards Act (s.21), no penalty, fine, or flat-rate deduction (e.g., $ per minute) is applied to wages — lateness is instead managed through the discipline steps below
Recording	Every late arrival is documented by the Shift Lead in the shift log and reported to the PC: time scheduled, time arrived, notice given, reason
Progressive discipline	1st in 90 days: documented verbal coaching (PC). 2nd: written warning (PC/PM). 3rd: PM meeting, formal written warning, possible schedule review. Further or pattern lateness: discipline up to termination per HR Policy Binder (ECC-HR-POL-2026-001)
No-notice lateness	Arriving late with no call is treated one step higher on the discipline scale; over 2 hours with no contact is treated as an unauthorized absence

ABSENTEEISM RULES

Reporting an absence	Phone the Shift Lead or PC as soon as the need is known — minimum 4 hours before shift start wherever possible, so replacement coverage can be arranged; leaving a voicemail or text alone is not sufficient notice until acknowledged
Illness / injury leave	Statutory illness and injury leave applies per the BC Employment Standards Act; ECC may request reasonably sufficient proof; a medical note is requested after 3 consecutive scheduled shifts missed or where a pattern emerges (e.g., repeated absences adjoining days off)
No-show	Failure to attend a scheduled shift without notice is a serious matter given youth safety and ratios: PM meeting and written warning at minimum
Job abandonment	Three consecutive scheduled shifts missed with no contact is treated as job abandonment per the HR Policy Binder
Pattern absenteeism	PC tracks attendance monthly; patterns are reviewed at supervision (SHSS G.4) and may trigger an attendance support plan before discipline
Medication continuity	An absent medication-authorized staff member must confirm the PC knows of any medication duties on their shift so administration is reassigned — a missed dose caused by unreported absence is investigated as a medication incident (ECC-MED §26, §29)

DOCUMENTATION RULES

If it isn't documented, it didn't happen. All ECC records are legal documents and may be reviewed by MCFD, licensing, and the courts.

Same shift, every time	Daily logs (SHSS C.1.11), wellness checks (C.1.12), MAR entries (at administration — never before, never pre-signed), incident reports, and refusal records are completed before leaving the shift
How to write	Black or blue ink only; no pencil; no white-out; legible printing; factual, objective, respectful language — record what was observed and done, not opinions or labels; quote the youth's words where relevant
Corrections	Single line through the error, initial and date it, write the correct entry — never obscure, erase, or remove a record (ECC-MED §6.1, §30.1)
Signatures	Sign/initial every entry; initials expanded in the signature legend where required (MAR); never sign for another person and never ask another person to sign for you
Timeliness of event forms	Medication Error Report (App D) and Refusal Record (App H): before end of shift. Reportable incident written report: within 24 hours (SHSS C.2.8). CDS Count Sheet: at the count, both staff
Confidentiality	Youth records never leave the program; no photographs of records; no youth information on personal devices or social media; records are stored in the designated secure location and belong to the director (SHSS E.7)
Late entries	Marked 'LATE ENTRY' with the actual date/time written and the date/time of the event it describes; explained in the entry
